Noosa Community Radio

Noosa Community Radio (NCR) is the only local independent community broadcaster run by volunteers. Founded in 1994, 101.3 FM showed great self-confidence by commencing the very challenging task of broadcasting on a 24/7 basis from 1997.

NCR has adopted a motto of "local and vocal" and prides itself on being a real alternative to other, particularly commercial, broadcasters.

Its main objectives adopted are to:

- involve and inform the community of local affairs and events
- stimulate interest and entertain through a wide variety of programming styles and tastes
- build a stronger sense of community
- maintain a radio station that can provide opportunities in the areas of education, ethnic, indigenous and current affairs, local music, sport and news
- raise public awareness and foster a general understanding for groups representing the disadvantaged members and residents of Noosa and environs
- support local volunteer and emergency groups by providing air time for their messages
- promote local events

Driven by this vision, each of their programs is unique. Programs support local artists, local bands and local events. Each is complemented by news and views, informing on what is going on locally and offering commentary on those aspects and issues directly affecting local audiences.

This expansive scheduling has been rewarded with a significant number of awards for innovation, promotion, outside broadcast, excellence in training as well as Community Radio Station of the Year 2007.

NCR is proudly sponsored by a range of businesses and supplemented by volunteers staffing the ECCO carparks.

ECCO is proud to be associated with Noosa Community Radio. This is another great community story which vindicates the vision and the effort subscribed in repatriating parking revenue to Eumundi to support our local economy and our community facilities.

"A successful team beats with one heart, we are Noosa Com Radio," says the NCR car park gate team celebrating over a Sunday breakfast.
